The one thing I did NOT like about the SecuX W10 is the lack of coin support with only 6 coins supported natively, and a handful of more coins to be supported in the future. If you plan on only HODLing the top 5 market-cap coins and perhaps a few ERC-20 tokens, I would probably say this is a better option and has a much cleaner and larger display for managing and verifying transactions.

Wallet transfer gone bad. Made a simple internal transaction between wallets in the Pointpay app. Tokens and money just gone, up in smoke. It has been almost a week and still no solution to the issue as described above. Been chatting with 4 different customer support staff, and all telling me to be patient. Provided all the information they needed.
